~~Better luck than Irish Kelly who had had a miserable run of luck at the track~~ and was down to his last ten-spot when, just before the last race, he happily caught sight of his parish priest anointing one of the horses entered therein. "With the holy father blessin' the craiture," reasoned Kelly, "how kin he lose?" So he put the whole ten right on the nose to win.

There were eight horses in the race - and Kelly's horse finished up the track, eighth. A few days later he encountered the reverend gentleman on the street and grumbled, "It's been lettin' me down ye've done, that's what! I bet on a horse because ye stop to bless it, and begorra, it finishes last!"

The priest told him sadly, "You should have more faith than that, my boy. I wasn't blessing that horse. I was giving him the last rites."

We hope you all come home winners!
